No Jake brakes in town: Council

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Town Council gave all three readings last Monday night to a revised Noise Bylaw 632/05, which states that the use of engine retarder or Jake brakes is prohibited at all times within town limits. New signs will be going up to replace the current requests to "Please avoid the use of engine retarder brakes."

Curfew crackdown

With the daylight hours getting longer, Elk Point's bylaw officer has been instructed to crack down on youths who do not abide by the town's Curfew Bylaw, which was passed last summer. The beefed-up bylaw states that anyone age 16 or under is prohibited from being out in public between the hours of 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. unless accompanied by an adult, age 18 years or older.

Budget balanced

Town auditor Barb McCarthy of Joly, McCarthy and Dion visited Council for the presentation of the 2004 financial statement. She told Council that the Town had had "a great year. You had expected a balanced budget, and you basically came in with that." The audited statement shows a $200 surplus for the year.

McCarthy's only suggestions for improvement in the Town's finances were to get several outstanding development permit deposits off the books, and to decide at the beginning of each year what capital purchases would be made in the coming year.

Mayor Parrish Tung expressed concern with the interest being paid on debentures taken out by the Town in years past. "We're paying 9.6 percent, even with the government's interest stabilization," he noted. Interest rates are locked in at the time the debenture is taken out, explained town manager Myron Goyan, who noted that the Town has not borrowed any money in the eight years he has been in Elk Point.

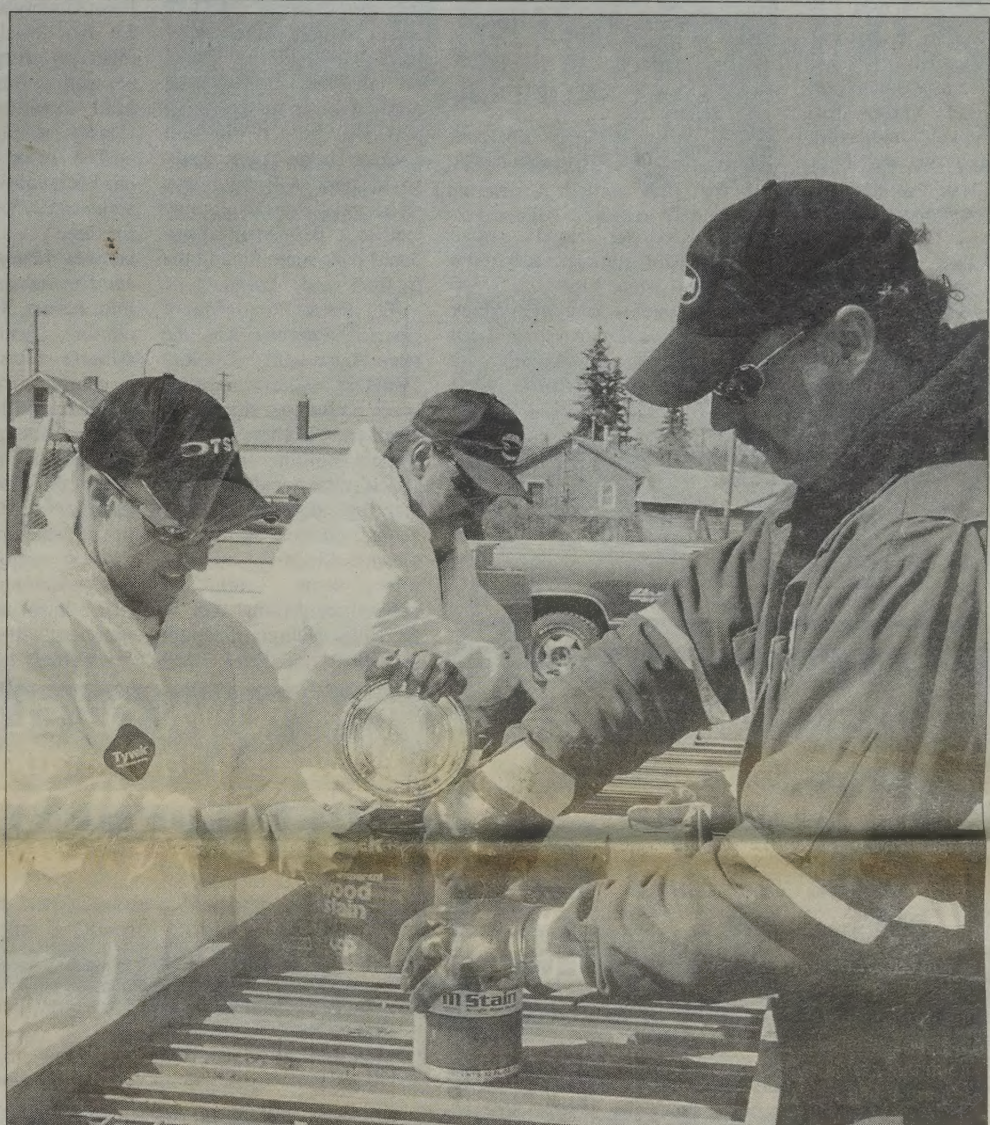

Centennial project

Funding originally intended for a Centennial project in Elk Point may have gone to more pressing needs, but the community will not be without a suitable project to commemorate Alberta's 100th birthday.

"I had a brainwave," said Mayor Tung, who suggested that a funding would be available thanks to a $4,281 unconditional grant which is scheduled to arrive in the near future. "I suggest we use it for work on the Canada Day stage."

In other Council business, Elk Point Auto Club was given approval for the closure of 50 Street between 50 and 51 Avenues on Saturday, June 4 for their annual Show and Shine.

Word has been received that Alberta's 2005 education tax will drop by five percent, which would amount to a $18,200 decrease overall for Elk Point ratepayers.

Well, EEEW!

Elk Point's Household Hazardous Waste Round-up brought out a large quantity of nasty items for disposal. Here, Todd Jacula, Rodney Logoza and Darron Lawrence of CNRL pry open crusty paint cans and pour their contents into a bulk container for transport to a waste disposal site. Dave Hoffman and Kyle Zubitowsky of EnviroSort (not shown) and a number of other CNRL employees also took part in the Round-up efforts.

Oilpatch rumors addressed at Chamber special meeting

By VICKI BROOKER
Staff Writer

"With the new oilfield contracts, we feel there will be a tremendous economic impact on Elk Point," Chamber of Commerce president Sandy Smith said as she opened last Tuesday's special meeting. "We would also like to dispel the rumors."

Cam Kinniburgh and Scott Staith of Canadian Natural Resources Limited were in attendance and outlined some of the changes which were slated to take effect yesterday.

"We went out for bids on water hauling, desand and pressure truck work. E-Can was the main company up to this point and we thought it was time to see what was out there," Kinniburgh said. CNRL sent bids to contractors in the area as well as some others, and went through the bidding process, based on prices and available equipment, he added. As a result, "we went with more companies than before."

Kinniburgh told the Chamber that the water hauling volume went up for Elk Point companies while sand went down. He outlined the companies which will be working in each area, and noted that E-Can now has the water hauling for the Elk Point South area as well as water and pressure work in Moosehills. "Leeway has more work than in the past, and will bring in subcontractors. Deerborn is going to try to work with local folks as well."

In response to a question on local employment numbers, Kinniburgh said, "some will take a little bit of time. We'll see where the companies will pick up people."

"Whoever they employ, they'll make that decision," Staith added. "If I were them, I'd be looking for people in the area."

"Some companies will have to grow or work together, but they believe that they will make it work. From our standpoint, it will bring in competitiveness in the desand and flushby work, and be a benefit for small companies."

CNRL has not yet gone through the process of deciding who will be the second companies on call if the contract-holders are unavailable to do needed work, but Kinniburgh said "it would make most sense if it were local companies coming in." He added that there are companies in the area who were not included in the bidding process who have specialized equipment that is needed on an occasional basis.

Chamber vice president Shirley Harms noted that oil activity "directly affects the people who supply retail services. If decisions affect Elk Point, let's get that on the table."

She brought information from E-Can, who indicated that they had cancelled their contract with CNRL prior to the call for bids. E-Can retained approximately 30 percent of their previous work with CNRL on a priority call basis, and said they respect CNRL's decisions.

E-Can, with a current yearly payroll of $16 million, told Harms they spend a total of approximately $10 million in parts and fuel yearly. They also said they will continue to support the communities of Elk Point, Kehewin, Frog Lake and Fishing Lake to the best of their ability.

In closing, Staith told the Chamber, "We care about the community, and we're part of this community. We have a huge stake in this area and we're not going away. Our decisions were not made lightly, but at the end of the day, we had to move forward with it. It's the nature of the business."

Early holiday deadline

Due to the May 23 Victoria Day holiday, deadlines for our May 24 issue have been moved up to 5:00 p.m. Wednesday for classified advertising, 12:00 noon Thursday for display advertising and editorial submissions.

Have a safe and happy long weekend, everyone, and please don't drink and drive.

Council lowers mill rate

One of the most difficult Town Council has to make each year is the setting of the mill rate for residential and commercial property taxes. This was done at our May 9 Town Council meeting with the mill rate being lowered by 1.02 mills. This means that most people will see a $102 reduction per $100,000 of property assessment value. However, due to reassessments on some properties, some ratepayers may see a light increase. Remember, we have no control over assessment values.

We also want to make the public more aware of the Town Curfew Bylaw that we have. This bylaw states no one 16 or under may be out on the streets between the hours of 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. It has been noted that this bylaw is not being followed in some cases. Our bylaw officer and the RCMP have been notified to enforce this law at all times. Please contact the Town office if you have any questions.

Town Council

As we slowly move toward summer, recreation has been high on Town Council's agenda. Many various groups have been spending a lot of time and planning on the Iron Horse Trail staging area as development continues. The majority of funding for this staging area has come from grants with very little expense to the Town besides labour, equipment and some manpower being put toward the various projects.

As part of the Town recreational plan, we also voted on proceeding with the purchase of $15,000 worth of skateboard equipment, which will be located on half of the outdoor rink north of the arena. The other half will be left for ball hockey. Usage of this skateboard park will be monitored and if warranted, may lead to a permanent skateboard park some time in the future.

On the cultural side of Council's agenda was the open house with MLA Ray Danyluk at the warehouse space on the east side of the Northern Lights Library System building on April 18. It was decided at the meeting that there was enough interest in turning the east side of this building into some sort of cultural/recreational type of facility. Many different groups and organizations came forward with their wish lists. Don Conrad volunteered to head up a group to look into feasibility and funding in order to make this a reality. I understand that their first meeting is to be held very shortly. This building has been offered for sale to the Town of Elk Point/County of St. Paul for $1. No decision has been made yet on our part as we are waiting for an upcoming joint meeting with the County on May 16.

The Town of Elk Point has been notified that it will receive $273,494 per year for three years, and this will be re-evaluated in years four and five according to census information. This money is coming from the new Alberta Municipal Infrastructure program. Total allocated will be approximately $1.4 million over a five-year period. The majority of this funding will be used to further upgrade sewer, water, curbs and gutters on various streets in town. Although this sounds like a lot of money, it only represents 20 percent of the recognized infrastructure upgrades on our list.

Town Council would also like to congratulate Laverne Wilson who won the trip to the annual Alberta volunteer conference called "Vitalize" which will be held in Calgary this year. This draw was made from a number of volunteers recognized at the Elk Point Volunteer Appreciation Night that was held on April 20.

Also, accolades go out to the Elk Point Volunteer Firefighters Association for another very successful Fireman's Ball, which was held April 23. Proceeds from this event will be going toward the Elk Point Fire Department's Rescue Van Replacement Fund.

If you have any questions, comments or concerns having to do with issues concerning the Town of Elk Point, please feel free to contact the Town office at 724-3810, the Public Works shop at 724-3766, or contact Mayor Parrish Tung or any of the four Town councillors.

Plant now for Canada Day color

By Vicki Brooker

Elk Point Canada Day Committee is reminding gardeners in Elk Point to get ready for Canada Day by including red and white flowers in their planting plans. Judges from the committee will be touring the community just before Canada Day to determine the winners of this year's House Decorating Contest, and will be looking for Canada flag colors as well as distinctively Canadian decorations used to enhance yards and gardens. Decorations must be visible from the street to qualify for judging.

Canada Day plans are progressing well, and donations are starting to arrive in response to requests sent to many businesses and organizations in the area.

The Canada Day Committee was excited to learn that the Vermilion Pipe and Drum band will again lead the parade. Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club has confirmed that they will be part of the stage show, with more entertainment added to the list each week.

The latest suggestions to go in the tentative lineup are a strong-man competition, the return of the once-popular tug-of-war and a "farm survival challenge" with very interesting events.

Watch for further details as they become available.

Elk Point's Community Advisory Policing Committee spent their Crime Prevention Week meeting deep in discussion of community -bases activities and initiatives.

The CAPC welcomed Anne Fayant, the Community Justice worker for Fishing Lake and Elizabeth Settlements. Fishing Lake is interested in setting up a Citizens on Patrol Society, and Thomas Kondla, who led the COPS group here for three years, offered to provide information on the process.

A variety of crime prevention and safety activities will be coming to Fishing Lake from May 17 to 19, including a visit from the RCMP Safety Bear and a presentation on bullying. An open house is planned

Lovingly remembered: Palliative Care hosts candle ceremony

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The many compassionate and caring people who have been involved with Elk Point's Palliative Care Society since its inception in 1994 were honored at the Society's annual gathering on Thursday, which also included the lighting of candles in memory of departed loved ones.

Facility supervisor Paulette Levasseur said that since 1994, Elk Point Health Centre has been enhanced by a series of dedicated volunteers who improved the quality of life for palliative care patients. "The committee works very closely with the palliative care caregivers to provide compassion and quality care."

President Grace Kinjerski introduced her fellow committee members: Jean McGinnis, a 10-year member who was secretary-treasurer for many of those years, Pam Ballas, nine years, Theresa McNamara, Mary Bezpalko, Marguerite Friesen, each a member for five years, and new secretary-treasurer Karon Hanson and Norma Berg, members for three years, and Paulette Levasseur.

Carolyn Onusko outlined the history of the committee. "In 1992, Colleen Simon, Nursing Director, and I traveled to St. Paul and joined the St. Paul and Area Palliative Care Group. Colleen remained for a year and I stayed on as chair for the following year. I began to ask myself, 'Why am I not in Elk Point doing this?'"

With full support from the Pastoral Care

Committee, the Elk Point group, consisting of Onusko, Lois Ramer, Isabel Myshaniuk, Irene Lindquist, Gloria Berg and Helen Brodbin, held their first meeting on October 11, 1994. Lucille Povaschuk, Helen Moneta and Norma Lorenson were added to the committee, and nursing supervisors Colleen Simon, Genny Shmyr, Patti Pittman-Fisher and Pam Ballas attended some meetings. The furnishing and opening of a palliative care room was high on their list of priorities.

Barb Kaufman and Jean McGinnis joined the committee in 1995, Betty Poitras and Dianne Davidson in 1996.

With funding from community and church groups, work began on the room. Lindquist and Onusko painted furniture, Ramer made a duvet cover and pillow sham, and non-member Carol Hellquist added her artistic skills. Local artists donated their work. The room was officially opened on October 13, 1995.

The first family to use the room was "very comfortable and felt very much at home," Onusko said. "They thought it was beautiful to see all the staff, volunteers and family members working so well together."

The committee's first Tree of Hope fundraiser was held in December 1995, with the permanent Tree of Hope donated and planted by Walter Skolarchuk in 1997. Onusko says the fundraiser "gets bigger every year. The tree is ablaze with lights - it's the best fundraiser ever."

tee "in good hands" in 1998, and "am privileged to see the good works this wonderful committee continues to do."

Norma Lorenson, Muriel Holthe, Sherry Brousseau, Donna Oryschuk, Esther Moneta, Marguerite Friesen, Marie Buck, Nellie Hillebrand and Agnes Moroziuk have also been part of the committee over the years.

Mary Bezpalko paid tribute to all members past and present with a poem, "The Joy of Unselfish Giving" before Hanson and McGinnis presented roses to former members who were present.

Marguerite Friesen opened the memorial portion of the program with a poem which said, in part, "our souls are bound up in ours forever."

"You've done a great job. You fill an incredibly significant role with your compassionate and merciful treatment," Pastor Jim MacLellan, who was part of the pastoral group when Palliative Care came into being, told the committee.

Candles were lit in memory of 16 area residents - Eric Burman, Peter Charchun, Rosie Fryingpan, Sid Holthe, Walter Krucik, Helen Hoppe, Olga

Myshaniuk, Fred Poitras, Pete Ruzycski, Alice Seiko, Victor Scott, Mike Trach, Gertrude Tremblay, Johnnie Uchman, Isabel Valentine and Anton Zarowny - who passed away in the year preceding the end of February, 2005. Additional candles were lit by relatives and friends of several others who have passed away since that time.

The afternoon closed with another reading by Mary Bezpalko, followed by time for fellowship and reflection as everyone enjoyed tea and an assortment of snacks.

Elk Point Palliative Care committee alumni Muriel Holthe, Irene Lindquist and Carolyn Onusko were presented with roses by Karon Hanson and Jean McGinnis in appreciation for their efforts with the group.

One industry and then some

It was lamented at a meeting last week that one of Elk Point's problems was that ours is a 'one-industry town.'

Oil plays a major role in our economy, without a doubt, but we still can't discount the other industries, including many that were here long before it.

The Canada Salt plant at Lindbergh has been part of this area for over 55 years, and continues to be a source of employment for many area residents.

Health care and out health centre, even since the days of regionalization and cutbacks, employs a significant number of people in the centre itself, the long term care centre and the health unit.

Agriculture in the area is far from dead, and although it is now necessary to farm around well leases, the compensation from them has kept many farmers afloat through drought and BSE crises. Elk Point is not the agricultural service centre it once was, now that machinery dealerships, grain elevators and stockyards have disappeared from the landscape, but it still supplies fuel and food to the rural residents.

We also have a manufacturing plant which sends trusses to building projects near and far, and employs a large local crew.

Elk Point has more than oil, and we need to remember that all these industries contribute to our economy.

Tourism Awareness Week was proclaimed by Mayor Bruce Kleeberger, and was celebrated with a Chamber of Commerce open house, featuring free tourist information and the new Lakeland Tourist Association video, followed by a Historical Society information meeting where plans for Mural Park and the development of Fort George and Buckingham House historic site were displayed. Plans for a new community services centre were put on the shelf after Town council voted down a land swap and said the Town's needs could be adequately filled with a much smaller, more economical structure.

Our sovereign's birthday

In Canada, the celebration of Victoria Day occurs every year on the Monday prior to May 25. It is the official celebration in Canada of the birthdays of Queen Victoria and Queen Elizabeth II. Victoria Day was established as a holiday in Canada West (now Ontario) in 1845, and became a national holiday in 1901. Before Victoria Day became a national holiday, people had celebrated Empire Day, beginning in the 1890s as Victoria approached her Diamond Jubilee in 1897.

Victoria, queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and empress of India was born on May 24, 1819. She ascended the throne after the death of her uncle, George IV in 1837 when she was only 18. She ruled until her death in 1901, when her son Edward VII became king of England.

The Sovereign's birthday has been celebrated in Canada since the reign of Queen Victoria (1837-1901). May 24, Queen Victoria's birthday, was declared a holiday by the Legislature of the Province of Canada in 1845. After Confederation, the Queen's birthday was celebrated every year on May 24 unless that date was a Sunday, in which case a proclamation was issued providing for the celebration on May 25.

The birthday of King Edward VII, who was born on November 9, was by yearly proclamation during his reign (1901-1910) celebrated on Victoria Day.

The birthday of King George V, who reigned from 1910 to 1935, was celebrated on the actual date, June 3, or when that was a Sunday, by proclamation on June 4.

The one birthday of King Edward VIII, who reigned in 1936, was also celebrated on the actual date, June 23.

King George VI's birthday, which fell on December 14, was officially celebrated in the United Kingdom on a Thursday early in June. Up to 1947 Canada proclaimed the same day but in 1948 and following years, settled on the Monday of the week in which the United Kingdom celebration took place.

George VI reigned from 1936 to 1952. The first birthday of Queen Elizabeth II, after she came to the throne in 1952, was celebrated in June. Meanwhile, Canada continued to observe Victoria Day.

An amendment to the Statutes of Canada in 1952 established the celebration of Victoria Day on the Monday preceding May 25. From 1953 to 1956, the Queen's birthday was celebrated in Canada on Victoria Day, by proclamation of the Governor General, with Her Majesty's approval.

In 1957, Victoria Day was permanently appointed as the Queen's birthday in Canada. In the United Kingdom, the Queen's birthday is celebrated in June.

So there you go, everyone. Now you have knowledge about the upcoming holiday weekend.

The Monday preceding May 25 is the day we celebrate the Queen's birthday in Canada. The actual birthdate of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II is April 21, 1926. She married the Duke of Edinburgh on November 20, 1947 and her accession to the throne was on February 6, 1952. The coronation was June 2, 1953. Her children are: the Prince of Wales (Charles), the Princes Royal (Anne), the Duke of York (Andrew) and the Earl of Wessex (Edward).

On this special upcoming Queen's birthday celebration day, she will be in Edmonton helping us celebrate the 2005 Alberta Centennial. Happy Birthday to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and Happy 100th Birthday to our Province of Alberta.

Art show, storyteller highlight Heinsburg School open house

By Vicki Brooker
Staff Writer

Visitors to Heinsburg Community School's open house last Wednesday experienced a real treat for the senses, from the beautiful artwork lining the gym to the tasty stew and bannock dished up by everyone's "Kokum," Cecile Dion in the home ec room, to the music and stories of keynote speaker and storyteller Denise Miller.

Artwork in media ranging from beads and buckskin to pencil drawings, three-dimensional teepees to delicately shaded floral watercolors, wood-burning to woodwork was on display, with some student artwork also a part of a silent auction. The student body includes many talented artists, and some of their work has been sent to Daniel J. Stromme of Portland, Oregon for critiquing.

The art on display was judged locally, with two winners announced for each age group. Kindergarten student Philip Stanley was first and Grade 3 student Perry Glambek second in the K-3 group. Ken Stanley Jr., Grade 5, won over Michael Abraham, Grade 4, in the Grades 4 and 5 competition. In Grade 6, Cherokee Stanley was first and Taylor Dion second. Grade 7 winners were Valeen Cardinal and Faydra Saddleback, while in Grades 8 and 9, Carlene Cardinal and Brandon Stanley took top billing. The senior high winner was Jody Stanley, who also won the Best of Show award with an entry which "touched my spirit," said art instructor Sandra Najmeddine.

The silent auction also included a number of creations, from a willow chair to bead jewelry, a baby doll on a cradleboard to a Ukrainian pysanka, and funds raised will go toward school projects.

Another fundraiser was also underway, with the Class of 2005 busy selling raffle tickets right up to the time of the draw, and accumulating $1,700 toward their May 20 graduation celebration. Winners were

Thomas Abraham, Wayne Anderson Jr., Marge Greyna, Leanne Burke, Valerie Krider and Marvina Pewap.

After touring the school and enjoying snacks, the crowd gathered in the gym, where Cecile Dion opened the presentation with a Cree prayer. Darrell Youngmans spoke on behalf of the school board, commending parents for choosing to send their children to Heinsburg. "These choices are important." He said that while gossip and rumours are plentiful, "this school will not be closing, as long as there are children, it will be open." He added that "only the chief and council can address the rumor" that buses from Frog Lake might be discontinued, and urged all parents to "keep on making the decisions you feel are best for your children."

Principal Carl Christensen said Wednesday had been "a terrific day because of our guest," who had given a concert in the morning and conducted workshops with various grade levels throughout the afternoon. "The students were just bubbling" about their experiences, he noted.

Edmonton storyteller Denise Miller was just as popular with the parents and guests. Of a mixed background which includes Welsh and Cherokee, she opened her presentation by inviting all to sing along with a "Cherokee Blessing." Teachers and students eagerly grabbed pairs of "noisy sticks" to join in the fun of a story of an African boy and his magician father who defeat the terrible monster, Abayoyo, and sang along with the chorus of "Gypsy Rover"

Miller fascinated her crowd with the story of how Coyote brought fire to the People, and how Coyote came to have orange eyes, then would up the evening by gathering a group around her to help with an Iroquois Rabbit Dance.

A bittersweet moment came at the end of the evening, when Christensen presented Cecile Dion with a retirement gift, and said "her spirit will stay on with us for years to come. She is looked up to by the staff and students. Thank you for your time, your years and your wisdom."

"Kokum" said she has enjoyed working with many staff during some "challenging years" and added, "I am not going to leave this place, I will be dropping in."

Draws for a wide range of door prizes, and announcement of the successful silent auction bidders, wound up the open house.

Charismatic storyteller and singer Denise Miller enchanted all ages with her presentation at Heinsburg Community School Open House.

Elk Point man kicks on to national Taekwon-do team

By JAY GUTTERIDGE

Review Staff

Cardiff, Wales may not seem like a hotbed for Taekwon-Do, but on July 30 and 31, it will be.

One Elk Point man will be heading to Cardiff for those dates to take part in the Seventh Open World Taekwon-Do Championships.

Thomas Bayduza, 27, will represent not only his town, but his country as part of Unified Taekwon-Do International's Team Canada.

"I'm excited, yeah, a little nervous," said Bayduza. "The contact will be harder than what I'm used to."

Bayduza runs the Grasshopper Taekwon-Do Club in Elk Point, which he established in 2001. He began in the sport in 1989, and is now one of the top competitors in Unified Taekwon-Do International Canada. He's currently a third-level black belt.

"I won the (UTI Canada) championship in forms last year, and I was second in sparring," he said.

"I go to tournaments and get bumped out of my weight division to make it fair. It's flattering – kind of painful – but flattering."

Sox spank North Stars at Spartan Field

Planes, trains and automobiles. You think this sounds like something out of the movies, don't you, well you should have been there. Spartan Field in Edmonton is nestled in between some warehouses, a busy railway track that shuffles container cars all day, planes flying overhead, a busy intersection loaded with cars stopping and going, all within walking distance to the old Transit Hotel. This is Spartan Field, a beautiful little ballpark, but it feels like you must be playing in the Bronx. The Sox must have thought so too, because they sure liked playing ball, the Bronx has been good to the Yankees, and Spartan Field was good to the boys.

The sticks that were silent last week woke up like a bear who had been hibernating all winter, hungry for some action, hungry for some horsehide. Unfortunately for the Edmonton North Stars, they were on the receiving end of a major pounding, two times in one day, because the boys of summer decided to put on a home run derby.

Nicky 'the fish' Myshaniuk had his second win in his second start and set another personal record, this time a no-hitter, giving the big K to 15 batters.

BASSETT

Review Sports

The rookie, 'Little M' Ryan Mac Donald took to the hill in the second contest, doing a fine job, sending seven batters back to the dugout, and chalking up his first win of the season.

But what a day at the plate! Last week, even though the Sox still won the first game of the season, not one player actually hit the ball, but on this day almost everyone in the line up hit the ball during the double header. Inside-the -park homers for the three veterans, Nicky 'the fish' Myshaniuk, Lee 'Bo bo' Letestu and Travis 'Stretch' Lindquist all cranked it to the wall. Another by the Sox rookie catcher Brett 'Bad news' Youngmans, who got a hold of one for an in-the-park homer. Tate 'Tater' Jensen had some very solid hits too, going four for four in the first game and three for four in the second game.

Let's hope the hitting magic is still with them, coming up tonight, Tuesday May 17, the Sox will be hosting Vegreville, game time is 7p.m. down at Bassett Field, home of Sox. Come out and catch a little action.

Down in the minors this week, Lorn Berg's Peeewe's boys with two more big wins over Pierceland on Tuesday and Bonnyville on Thursday. Brandon Rainey, Brett Lindquist, Dylan Loughran, Jamie and Jordyn Wozniak, Dustin and Dylan Berg all seeing action pitching this past week. Coming up this week, the Peeewe's travel to Cold Lake on Tuesday and host Goodfish on Thursday night at 6.30p.m.

Jason Jenner and the Mosquitoes boys played two games this past week, going to a 13-all tie with Bonnyville on Tuesday.

Competition isn't the most important thing, said Bayduza, but he competes a little harder now that he's got his own club.

"Since I started teaching I've been trying to win. I've got to recruit now," he said.

There are currently 41 students enrolled in the Grasshopper club.

"They're so supportive. I owe a big thanks to all of them," said Bayduza.

The UTI Team Canada heading to Wales consists of nine members. Bayduza qualified for the team on Feb. 12 in Wainwright.

"We've competed together a long time," he said of his teammates. "We met each other at tournaments, and we visit each other's clubs."

The team's coaches are Todd Godwin of Wainwright and Michael Forster of Yorkton, Sask. UTI Canada is based in Saskatoon and is primarily a Western Canadian organization.

The tournament in Cardiff is an Open event, meaning it brings together the unified, world and international styles of taekwon-do.

"It's a political separation, basically," said Bayduza of the differences between the styles.

The styles feature different rules, such as the use of a chest protector in world style but not in the others. Also, world style does not allow punches to the head.

Unified style is a sort of middle ground between world and international.

At the tournament, Bayduza will compete in four areas: International Taekwon-Do Federation style semi-contact sparring, World Taekwon-Do Federation style full-contact sparring, team sparring and traditional forms.

Forms involves performing routines for judges.

The tournament uses a continuous point system, meaning when someone scores a point the match continues uninterrupted. Bayduza is used to stop point matches, he said, where the match is stopped each time a point is scored.

He's currently in the process of raising $3,400 for the trip.

"The Lions in Elk Point are being very helpful," he said, noting they are offering bingo proceeds.

Some industry sponsors also stepped forward, he said.

Anyone interested in contributing to the trip can call Bayduza at 614-4292.

Elk Point Community Choir presents Spring Concert

By Vicki Brooker
Review Staff

Elk Point Community Choir wound up another year with a glorious Spring Concert on Friday, May 13 at the Elk Point Seniors Recreation Centre.

The many and varied talents of this large group, which includes singers from as far away as Two Hills and Bonnyville, were showcased in 16 group numbers, starting with "Just a Single Voice" and "Lara's Theme" from "Dr. Zhivago."

A recurring 'river' theme ran through the concert, starting with "River Song," with Linda Peters at the piano.

Solos by Donna Johnson, Barb Buryn, Lawrence Pidluzny and John Sieben highlighted a lively Jamaican folksong, "Jump Down, Turn Around," sung with gusto.

Moving to a slower tempo, the concert continued with "Seize the Moment" and "The Scarlet Tide" before moving to a traditional Irish children's street song, "Tell My Ma When I Get Home," sung a cappella.

The ladies of the choir took the audience along on a trip back to the 1950s as they crooned "Johnny Angel," before leaving the spotlight to four of their number. A quick-changed quartet, Cheryl Kurash, Kerry Anderson, Sarah and Shirley Osinchuk of 'Harmony,' blended their voices in "The Way of the Cross Led Me Home."

A newcomer to the choir, Andrea Stewart of Two Hills, was accompanied by choir director Udo Mueller on the piano as she sang an original song, "God's Seasons."

Talented young St. Paul pianist Jessica Journault delighted the audience with Chopin's "Waltz in G flat Major."

Chelsey Buryn was called forward to accept one of two Community Choir scholarships from her mother, Barb. This year's second recipient is Daniel Gervais, who was unable to attend the concert. Chelsey went from podium to keyboard, where she played and sang one of her original compositions, a touching song entitled, "Memories."

The men of the choir came back to the stage ready for work, led by a hard-hatted Shaun Sheplawy, and saluted Alberta's oil industry with "Call Me a Roughneck." They were joined by the ladies in a rousing rendition of Rob Holliday and Gabe Bayduza's salute to the Bicentennial, "The Voyageur's Song," with Bayduza on accordion and a fringe-coated Mueller singing the solo parts.

An 1844 spiritual, "I'm

Barb Buryn takes Deanna Easthope's place at the piano as the ladies of the choir sing a vintage favorite, "Johnny Angel" under Udo Mueller's direction. Page turner is Shelby Mueller.

Going Home" and the traditional spiritual, "Deep River," were both sung a cappella. A solo by Sheplawy and a violin accompaniment by Jeff Journault were part of "You Raise Me Up," which was followed by another sacred number, "He Will See You

Through." The theme continued with the lilting, up-tempo "Come Before the Lord With Dancing" and concluded the concert with "Lord, I Will Lean on You," featuring a solo by Kerry Anderson and Linda Peters on the piano.

Mueller said the "old, new, sacred, folk and fun songs that commemorate our area in a diverse, interesting program is a testament to the talents "of choir members, as he thanked the audience before leading the choir in the final number, a beautiful a cappella benediction.

Crime prevention

for May 19, from noon to 7 p.m.. Similar activities are planned for Elizabeth Settlement the following week.

Elk Point has experienced a setback in their plans to host Rev. Laing from Taber and another speaker from Minnesota for school and community sessions on the prevention of violence and bullying. The CAPC had applied to the province for a Prevention of Family Violence Funding grant, however CAPC chair Deanna Easthope said "there were too many applications and not enough money to go around." She has located another potential funding source, the Prairie Action Foundation, and now has an application to that group in the proposal stage, and also noted that the Pioneer Circle seniors are interested in being involved.

Rev. Jim MacLellan indicated that a third possibility would be to raise money locally for a presentation of this nature.

Fayant said that violence and bullying "are one of the main issues in all our schools. There's got to be a way we can work together on presentations and prevention. I think it's important." She noted that youths coming to Elk Point from her area experience a degree of "culture shock" and need some help to adjust to life in a larger school setting.

Problems with on-road vehicles using the Iron Horse Trail were noted. Elk Point RCMP currently does not have ATVs to patrol the trail, but hope to obtain these at a later date. Sgt. Brian Quist noted that it is difficult to restrict access.

With the arrival of warmer weather, it is also likely that more local residents will be accessing the trail from their homes, and Town manager Myron Goyan reminded everyone that the speed limit for ATVs is 25 km/h, and that they must access the trail by "the closest way out of town."

Other concerns from the Town included the use of engine retarder brakes within town limits, which will be prohibited under a beefed-up bylaw, and recent vandalism damage to water pumping and pipe equipment. The curfew bylaw will be enforced, effective immediately.

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce will be hosting a presentation on credit card fraud and identity theft at their May 18 meeting.

The RCMP's business plan includes enforcement of seat belt use, and targets intersection infractions and impaired drivers. The detachment will also target the drug problem.

"The big thing for youth is bullying and violence," Sgt. Quist said, noting that a progressive program for each grade level is available for schools. This program will be used in Fishing Lake, and will even involve preschoolers in the Head Start program. "Hopefully the message will get out."

Blast Off with summer reading @ your library

By ROSEANN MAGDIAR

Elk Point Public Library

My name is Roseann, some of you may remember me from last summer. I am the Elk Point Public Library Summer Reading Program coordinator and one of my duties is to keep you informed of events occurring at the local library. I would just like to fill you in on what's to come this summer with regard to the summer reading program.

This summer's theme is 'Blast Off!' with a focus on outer space.

The number of children that registered last summer was incredible, outnumbering any of the previous years. To ensure that everyone that intends to attend the summer reading program this year has a spot, we will have two nights during which parents and guardians are welcome to come to the library to register their children. Those nights are June 8 and June 15, from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m. A $10 fee will be collected at the time of registration. To ensure that a spot is saved for your child, be sure to register them on our registration evenings. Each time a child attends the summer reading program, the cost is $2. The registration fee will be put toward attendance, and once the $10 has been used up, the child will have to pay $2 for each session they attend.

The summer reading program will run on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m. from July 5 till August 18. All children from ages five to 12 are welcome to register. If you have any questions with regards to the summer reading program, feel free to call Roseann during library hours at 724-3737.

Starting in July we will have a special Preschool Summer Story Time for those children under the age of five, tentatively scheduled for Wednesday afternoons at 1:00 p.m. Please pre-register for this also. A nominal fee will be charged to offset the cost of craft supplies.

Right now, Preschool Story Time occurs at 10:30 a.m. on Fridays. Children and their parents and guardians are invited to attend this free event that occurs every Friday at the Elk Point Public Library. If you have any suggestions or preferences of times for Preschool Summer Story Time, please feel free to let us know by either dropping in or calling us at 724-3737.

Help set a new record on National Active Living Day

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Thursday, May 26 is National Active Living Day, and this year, a group called SHARE (Safe, Healthy, Active People Everywhere) is putting together a venture of setting a new record for the Guinness Book of Records, according to Elk Point Elementary School physical education teacher Rob Boyd.

The record would be for the most people walking at any one time, and the target number is 77,500 walkers, Boyd says. "SHARE is encouraging Albertans to get on the bandwagon, and they have contacted schools to be part of this."

Boyd is "broadening this" to include parents and town residents, who he is encouraging "to be part of this if they can work it into their schedules."

On May 26, all those interested in walking are asked to meet at the school to join the one kilometer course.

"We need to be actually walking at 10:00 a.m., and be here at 9:45 a.m., so we'll be out there and doing it."

Boyd says the Healthy Lifestyle part of the school division suggested the walk could be a fundraiser, but with the extremely successful Jump Rope for Heart just behind them, "we're just doing it as participation." Some schools in the division may be doing it as a fundraiser, however, he noted.
